INNOVATION MANAGEMENT

“Creativity is thinking up new things. Innovation is doing new things.”

New ways of creating new value', that is the modern definition of innovation that most innovative organizations embrace today. Innovation has continued to gain meaningful significance in organizations as a way to grow. This is evidenced by the increasing number of publications on innovation and innovation management and the creation of diverse roles required to manage innovation. However, many efforts to date, to both certify and study innovation have left the discipline of innovation fragmented and overly diverse.

Innovation has become important and critical in every organization. However, many organizations do not know what they should do or where to start. Our quick-cycle Innovation Organization Audit tool is designed to help your organization identify where it is right now and where it should focus its efforts. Assessment and guidance from our innovation experts can help you identify and develop solutions for specific innovation challenges. Our Innovation Organization Audit focuses

“The secret of change is to focus all of your energy, not on fighting the old, but building on the new.”
